PROGRESS OF THE PROJECT

GENQUEST project partners are working on the development of two project outcomes. A Compendium of Webquests and an In-Service Training Programme will be available at the end of the year. The results will be available on the project website, initially in English and then in all partner languages. The project will also organise two training courses - one for young people and one for educators. The results developed in the framework of the project will be used for a pilot training performer by each partner at local level. The results will be available with open access for everyone interested in the topic.
